

... Seems Dick Burton has his snipers out to rub out Dave... The Norwood Little League field has been completed and was named the Charles Saraca field.

The Norwood High School baseball team had just completed a winning season under their new coach and Bill Travers and Tom Gugliotta were named to the all-scholastic team... All the officials who sneak off golfing during the summer were all docked for the off time on their pay checks, and now won't receive a check for 10 years.

Richie Hebner was named Rookie of the Year in the National League and took the offer from Warner Brothers to star in the new flick "The Hebner Story"... Our Norfolk County Press Editor Al Katz promised to stop taking the ugly pills for the Easter Holidays... The new tag team wrestling card at the Garden next week was set to feature Charlie Saraca and Haystack Calhoun against Tom Couch and Bruno Santmartino... Boston College won all nine games and faced Alabama in the Orange Bowl and won 26-0.

Walpole football mentor John Lee accepted a position as assistant football coach at Notre Dame aiding Ara, and Norwood's Jack Walker was named to fill Lee's position at Walpole... Neil Higgins led Boston College to the NCCA college hockey championship... Gary Maus was named to coach the Boston University

ALL STAR FINALE — The Norwood Messenger and our associate papers can take a great big bow for their basketball and hockey banquet last week at the Needham Legion. There were over 300 in attendance. It was a fine sight to see all the kids on the hockey and basketball teams talking over the seasons in a friendly atmosphere. Every single player who was selected not only on the first team but in the special category groups was present to receive their trophies. It was a fitting climax to the season and it is the first time ever in any sport in high school that an aggregation of all stars from every team in a league has been honored in such a way. The parents of all the boys were on hand, and the players were the winners. The outstanding coaches in basketball and hockey were honored and had nothing but praise for the night.

We have heard from some quarters that our criteria for selecting outstanding coaches is being questioned.

Well, to answer the question, the staff of our papers which include writers from Norwood, Dedham, Needham and Walpole, pick the team and they don't just base it on winning and losing, but what a coach accomplishes during the year. The choices are all made before the tourney and this has nothing to do with any personalities. In fact, we ac-usually don't really care what anyone thinks of our choices. Maybe the headmasters would like to control this also... (fat chance)...

RUN AROUND. Now we hear that the headmasters' rule be in effect for the Babe Ruth League season, and that anyone who plays freshman baseball cannot play on the BRL. Funny how a week or so changes. Last week it was all rah-rah when the BRL officials were at the meeting there but in one short week the tune changes. The rule should be changed but in most or all schools it is being violated constantly. In other words, kids play a game here or there outside of school bounds and why not. The usual attitude is that no one goes out and hires a detective agency to see who is playing where or when. Maybe it would be a good idea to keep the kids off the street until all hours of the night and stop them from getting into trouble. If we had our choice of a kid hanging around the corner or playing sports we know what we would go for. I guess rules are rules and what's in black and white must be gone by.

Norwood record of 14-0 in freshman hockey and 16-2 in Junior Varsity hockey. The record now reads no wins and all losses. A letter was sent to all the schools in the Bay State League forfeiting all these games because of the rule. Of course Walpole had seven kids playing: Dedham had five and just about every team in the Bay State League had boys playing hockey for the Bantams and Frosh... But we are the leaders and must adhere by our rules. The record of all teams should read 0-16 if they went by the rules all the way... Why argue, I guess it's liking banging your head against a stone wall... Of course the kids will suffer and all of the adults who donate thousands of hours to these youth programs will suffer. Want to compare the salaries of the two groups and toss in the time spent and there is no comparison... I don't know, maybe we're all wrong, but who knows maybe we'll seek a public office and try and impeachment move... We know we'd get one vote (our own).

CARAVIELLO'S THE NAME — Certainly one of the most successful football coaches in the state in high school is Armand Caraviello of Xaverian Brothers. Armand has a record of 28 wins, 7 losses and one tie in his four years at Xaverian. This includes two class C champions and two Catholic Central League crowns, and a sensational 22 game win streak. Caraviello has had many boys from the local area at Xaverian and many have gone to college thanks to their football playing for the Hawks.

Some of the players from our area include Greg Land (University of Mass.) from Norwood; Gerry Sullivan, also of Norwood, at University of Rhode Island where he started as a freshman in the line. Many more played for Armand including John McMorrow (Westwood), Gerry McGovern (Dedham), Phil Penza (Walpole), and of course Bob Rafferty and Joe Jenkins of this year's team. Armand certainly does a fine job with the kids and as a reward for his coaching he has been selected to coach the Harry Agganis High School All Stars from the southern area of Massachusetts against the Northern area stars for a football game for the Agannis fund slated for August. He was dealt a blow recently when Assistant Coach Lou Varrichione accepted a position as Head Coach of Ashland High School. Other Hawk assistants in football include: Frank Kelley, George McCabe, Mike Cahill, and Brothers Tony O'Neil and James McNeeley. Caraviello will keep busy this summer with his day camp at the Xaverian campus which includes everything that a youngster from the age of 5 to 13 could want to do in recreation. The old adage "give credit where credit is due" should certainly apply to Armand Caraviello who brought Xaverian Sports to the top High School level in our state.
