Two Superhighway Breaks Reported

Two superhighway breaks sometime between Wednesday night and Thursday morning were reported to Norwood police yesterday, when it was revealed that a restaurant and a gas station had suffered during the night.

At Mrs. Wilton's on the Superhighway at East Cross street, entry was gained by breaking a window, and some twenty cans of lung mud were taken by the thief.

Breaking a window also provided a means of entry at Gould's Gas Station, where a pair of binoculars, a spotlight, a set of ratchet bolt, a 22 calibre revolver, and about fifteen packages of cigarettes comprised the loot. Police are investigating.

Figures Show Many Shoe Stamps Saved

BOSTON, June 4—Shoe rationing, off to a more favorable start than any other rationing program, will be continued by the use of stamp 18 from War Ration Book One after June 15.

About a third of the 17 stamp 18s have been exchanged for shoes during a four-month period ending June 15, according to figures which were made available to the Office of Price Administration announced today. Less than a quarter of consumers have obtained special shoe stamps or certificates from their ration boards for emergency or special purpose footwear, indicating that New England is well-shod under rationing.

Heavy sales of shoes before the expiration of stamp 17 on June 15, are expected and shoppers are warned to bring their ration book with them to the stores which are complying with the rule against accepting loose coupons.

Thirteen shoe stores in this region will benefit by the provision of plastic toe safety shoes which are made available through industrial plant rationing representatives until steel toe safety shoes can be provided for women in larger quantities.

Army Jeep Visits Shattuck School As Bond Drive Prize

Pvt. James Cleeve from Headquarters First Service Command, in Boston, visited the Shattuck School last Wednesday in an Army jeep. Cleeve drew the jeep to a workover on the playground and answered the many questions put to him by the enthusiastic group. A picture was taken of the vehicle and it is now proudly displayed on the school bulletin board. It was a memorable day because the jeep came to the children as a reward for their success in the recent War Savings program.

In twice buying days the children and teachers of the Shattuck school purchased $250.85 worth of War Bonds and Stamps. The Treasury Department has awarded the school a certificate which will bear three gala stars before the closing date of school. NORWOOD NINE

Team Gets Nomination Despite Walpole Loss

In Tourney 7th Time In Nine Years—Lose To Walpole, 5-1

For the seventh time in nine years, Benny Murray's Norwood High School baseball team has won an invitation to the Eastern Massachusetts play-offs. The announcement was made shortly before the Murraymen took on Bob Graney's Walpole High club yesterday afternoon, and went down to a 5-1 defeat as Coach Murray used the afternoon to experiment with his club to find a more potent batting order.

The club has reason to be fine, eight victories and two losses record mainly on the pitching and batting of Ray Martin, and yesterday the Norwood club took time out to find out if they had missed any bats over the course of the year. As it turned out, it would seem that they hadn't, with pitcher Ed Songin of the Walpole club having little difficulty in hand-cuffing the Norwood club the entire afternoon, limiting the batters down via the strikeout rate.

The order, effective Sunday morning, will make the most popular beef steaks cost 11 or 12 cents per pound—a 33 to 37-per cent increase. The order, effective June 6, appears today on Page 2. This is the official OPA table concerning new point values on meats, fats, fish and cheese. It should be clipped and posted in each housewife's kitchen for reference.

In an effort to switch civilian tastes from scarce beef cuts to more plentiful pork, veal and lamb, the Office of Price Administration has increased by one to three points per pound the ration-point values of nearly all types of beef for reference.

Plan Private Service For Lt. Shattuck Was Victim Of Airplane Crash

1st Lt. Jackman Morrill Shattuck, 26, died Sunday, May 30, at Ft. Bliss, Texas. Lieutenant Shattuck was attached to the U. S. Army Air Forces. Funeral services will be held at St. Gabriel's Chapel in Highland Cemetery on Saturday and Rev. C. P. Towbridge will officiate. Service will be strictly private and friends are asked to please omit flowers.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Barbara Powers Shattuck, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund J. Shattuck, Jr. of 92 River Place, Dedham, and a brother, Edward J. Shattuck of South America. "New England can rightfully expect its just share of anthracite coal," he said. "It should not expect more and it does not deserve less. In the question of New England anthracite, naturally the part that production will play is of paramount importance. As you all know, the anthracite situation here is not good at the present time. In fact, it is bad in some spots. This is due to a number of reasons. The Federal Government has been appraised of the situation. Those of us who are concerned with doing what we can from the standpoint of the New England States have been to Washington week in and week out, hammering and pounding at those places

Meat, Butter, Gas Scarce

Shortages are once again the keynote of the shopping situation in Norwood, with little cause for optimism for week-end shoppers here, at least in the food line. There is practically no poultry, and beef has been so scarce that point values have been increased to make it less attractive to the shopper who has to watch points. Even pork and lamb were none too plentiful, and it was feared that the acute shortages elsewhere would exhaust the available supplies of these meats as well.

On top of the meat situation, butter supplies reached their first shortage period since being placed under a rationing plan. Many local stores found themselves without a pound of butter to accommodate their week-end trade. Canned supplies remained tight with limited supplies of regular gas in the pumps in most stations but with practically no "ethy" available anywhere.
